The staff of the Palm City Animal Clinic celebrated the groundbreaking of the new animal hospital, now under construction, with project supporters that included members of the Palm City Neighborhood Advisory Committee, Community Redevelopment Agency, Palm City Chamber of Commerce, small business owners, Martin County Commissioners and Team Parks Construction.

PALM CITY — Drivers traveling along Mapp Road in Palm City may have noticed that something is missing just south of Martin Downs Boulevard.

Snips & Snoozes, the pet grooming division of Palm City Animal Clinic, was recently torn down under the coordination of Team Parks Construction. Construction on the state-of-the-art animal hospital that the clinic is building will begin shortly and the new hospital will expand to where the Snips & Snoozes office was located.

“Most business owners would be beside themselves to see a piece of their business be torn down, but knowing what will replace the current building is far more exciting,” said Dr. Rex Sentell, Owner of Palm City Animal Clinic. “We’ve worked tirelessly to create an animal hospital that will benefit the community as a whole and it’s incredible to see the project come to life.”

Members of the community who have been a vital part in the success of this project for Palm City Animal Clinic gathered for the official kick-off groundbreaking on March 11. Mike DiTerlizzi, Member of the Neighborhood Advisory Committee, commented on the significance of the construction. “The plans for this animal hospital have been reviewed again and again to ensure that we preserve the character of the community for the residents of Palm City, while ensuring that Dr. Sentell and his staff will be able to create the modern facility that they have envisioned.”

Opening its clinic doors in 1981, Palm City Animal Clinic established the grooming division, Snips & Snoozes, in 1992. During project construction, the grooming services will be located in the main Palm City Animal Clinic office adjacent to the previous Snips & Snoozes building at 3090 SW Mapp Road in Palm City.
